

the present range of opinion in the media is so thin you could cut your tongue on it if you're not careful. to consolidate further would further reduce democracy. please refrain.